

Snapshots™

HOME BUYING BUDGET

When buying a home, the actual purchase price will, of course, be your major expense but you do need to be aware of the additional expenses you will have. Some of these are one-time expenses and others are ongoing. You should summarize those expenses to ensure that you do not overextend yourself.

Here is a budget worksheet that can help you estimate your one-time and ongoing costs of home ownership.

ONE-TIME EXPENSES

Expense	Estimated Amount
Legal Fees
Provincial Land Transfer Taxes
Deposit
Appraisal Costs
GST (on new home)
PST (usually included in sales price)
HST (if applicable)
Survey Fee (if required by lender)
Home Inspection Fee
Appliances (if needed)
Moving Costs
Utility Connection Fees
Immediate Repair/Redecorating
Garden Maintenance Equipment
TOTAL

ONGOING EXPENSES (MONTHLY)

Expense	Estimated Amount
Mortgage
Property Taxes
Hydro
Gas
Water
Property Insurance
Life Insurance (if not built into the mortgage)
Condominium Fees
TOTAL	